1 Year in Asia... It doesn't seem like it, but it's been one year since I've arrive here in Timor. It's impossible to use words to express everything I've seen, learned, experimented, how much I grew up, how much maturity I gained and how much closer I am to the Lord and learned from Him. These last 12 months were like being in a rollercoaster in the dark... I had no idea which curves, ups and downs I would have to go through, but I was certain that I would continue in the right path, would have many joyful moments, a lot of fun and would arrive at the right destination. Glory to God!

This was a year of...

projects completed

different cultures

new places

spiritual growth

adventures

And this is only a small part of everything God has done here through us. Thank you very much for your prayers and support! Let's continue with this work and finish the course that God has put in our hands!

Maromak fo bensaun! God bless you!
